LACEBY CIRCULAR

This seven-mile circular walk takes you around the village of Laceby providing many picturesque views of Laceby Beck and the foothills of the Lincolnshire Wolds.

After starting your walk in the village square you will pass the church of St Margaret's, parts of which date back to the 12th century. Next, you'll pass the old village schoolhouse which was established in the 1730s thanks to funds left by Philip and Sarah Stanford who's three children died in infancy. Although the current school has moved to a new site along Cooper Lane, it still retains the Stanford name. Additionally, the Stanford Trust is still active, providing additional educational facilities at the school and the nearby Stanford Centre for residents of the village.

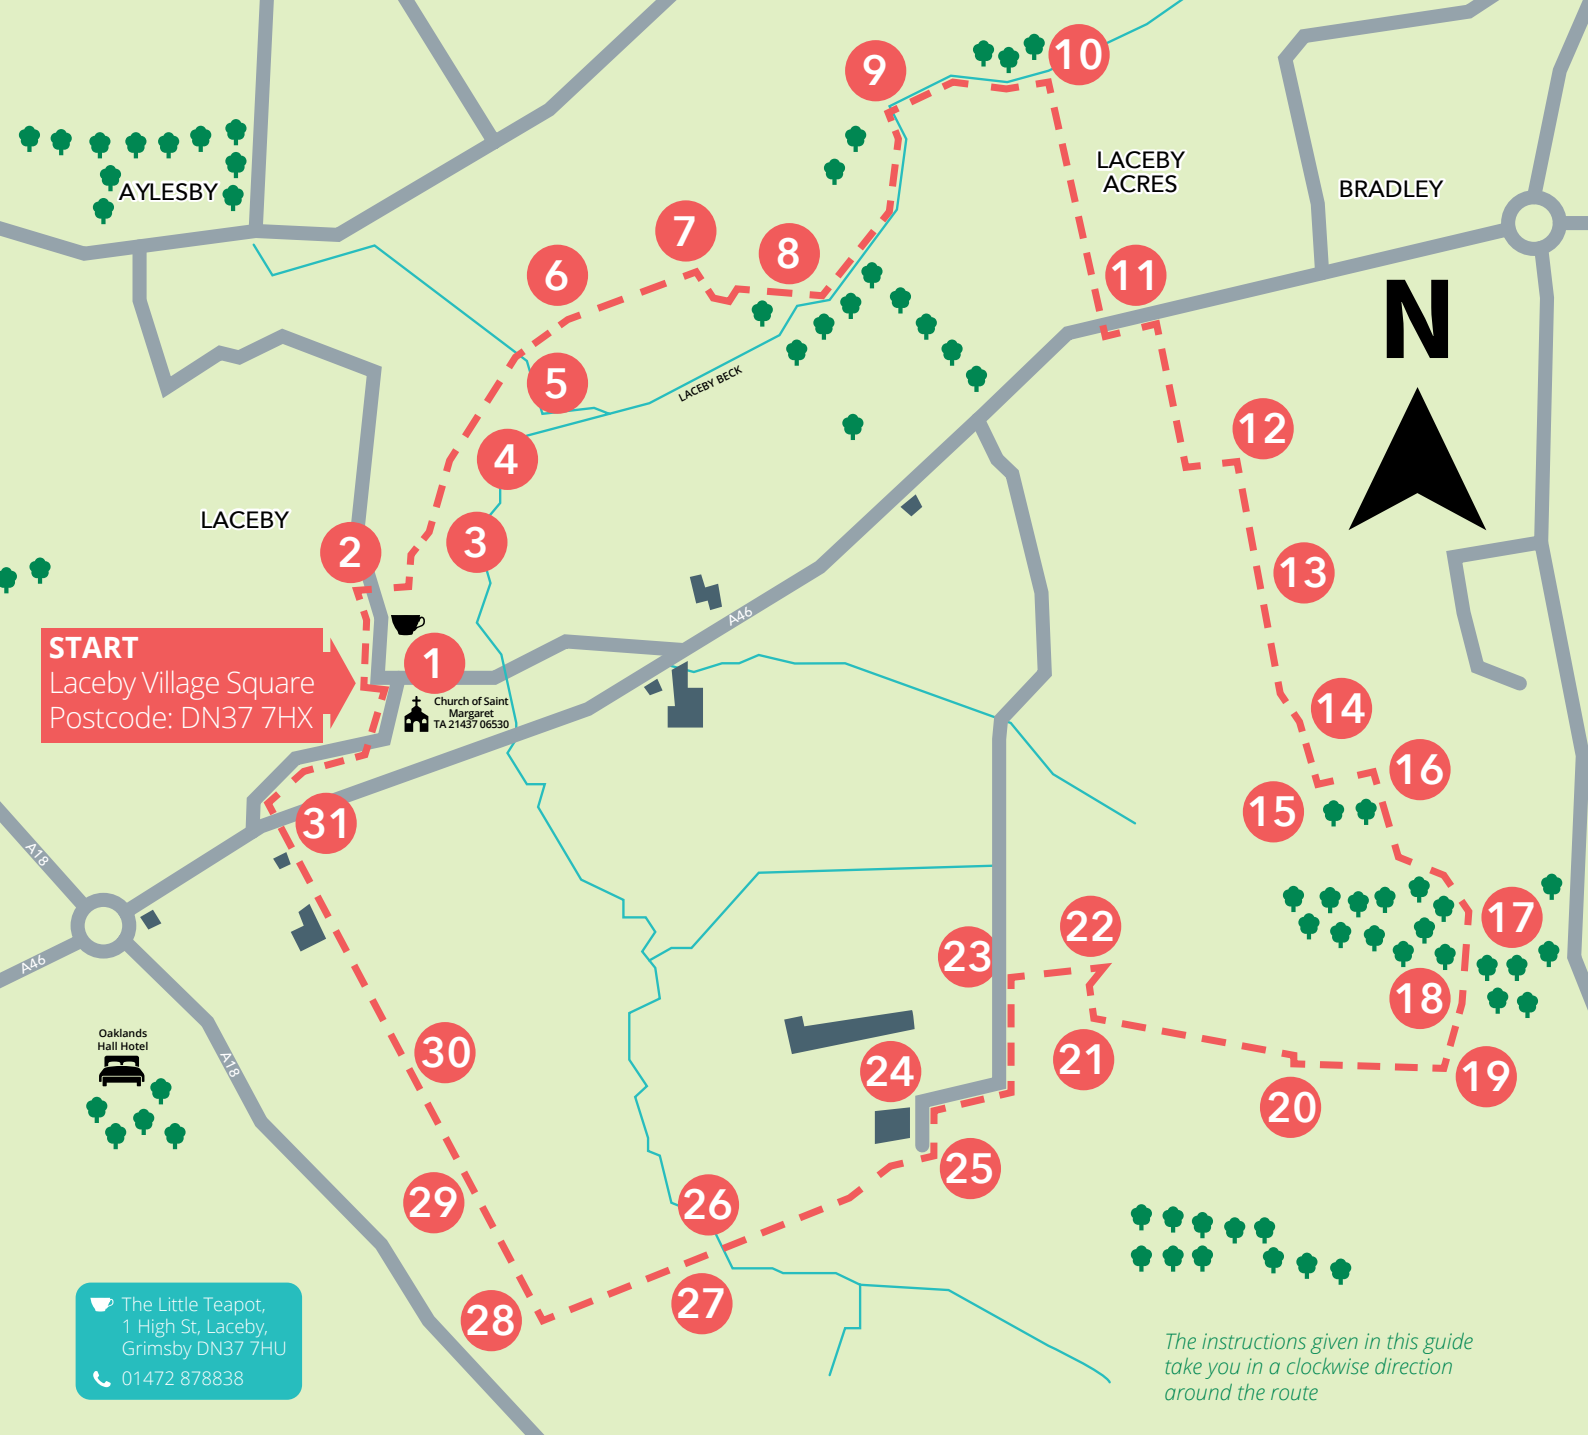

Whilst this route is mostly away from roads, it does cross the main A46 into Grimsby so please be careful whilst crossing and where possible, use recognised crossing points.

Laceby is listed in the 1086 Domesday Book as 'Lenesbi' or 'Levesbi'. The three Lords at the time were Erik, Tosti and Swein and the land belonged to Bishop Odo of Bayeux, as lord of the manor and tenant-in-chief.

The walk also takes you through Bradley Woods before taking you back to the village. Keep a look out for the Kingfishers on Laceby Beck as you walk nearby.

Once back in the village square why not visit The Little Teapot Tearooms for some well earned tea and cake.

The walk is accessible by public transport with both the No 53 Grimsby-Lincoln and 250 between Grimsby and Hull providing services throughout the day and on a Saturday. Visit www.stagecoachbus.com/plan-a-journey
