

BEFORE SETTING OFF

- > It's well worth giving your bike a quick once-over before setting off, check your gears and brakes are in good condition, your tyres are pumped up properly and if you're going out at night that your lights work.
- > Check the weather before setting off and dress accordingly.
- > Check that the route is suitable for you and your party.
- > If possible let someone know where you are going and make sure that you carry a fully charged mobile phone.
- > Carrying a small cycle toolkit and puncture repair kit can save a long walk home if something goes wrong.
- > If you're going on a longer ride then carrying a drink and an energy snack is advisable

IMMINGHAM LOOP

This is the shorter of our two rides that start in Immingham (see also A Hint of the Wolds). At around 14 miles, it is one that should be manageable by most people with reasonable fitness.

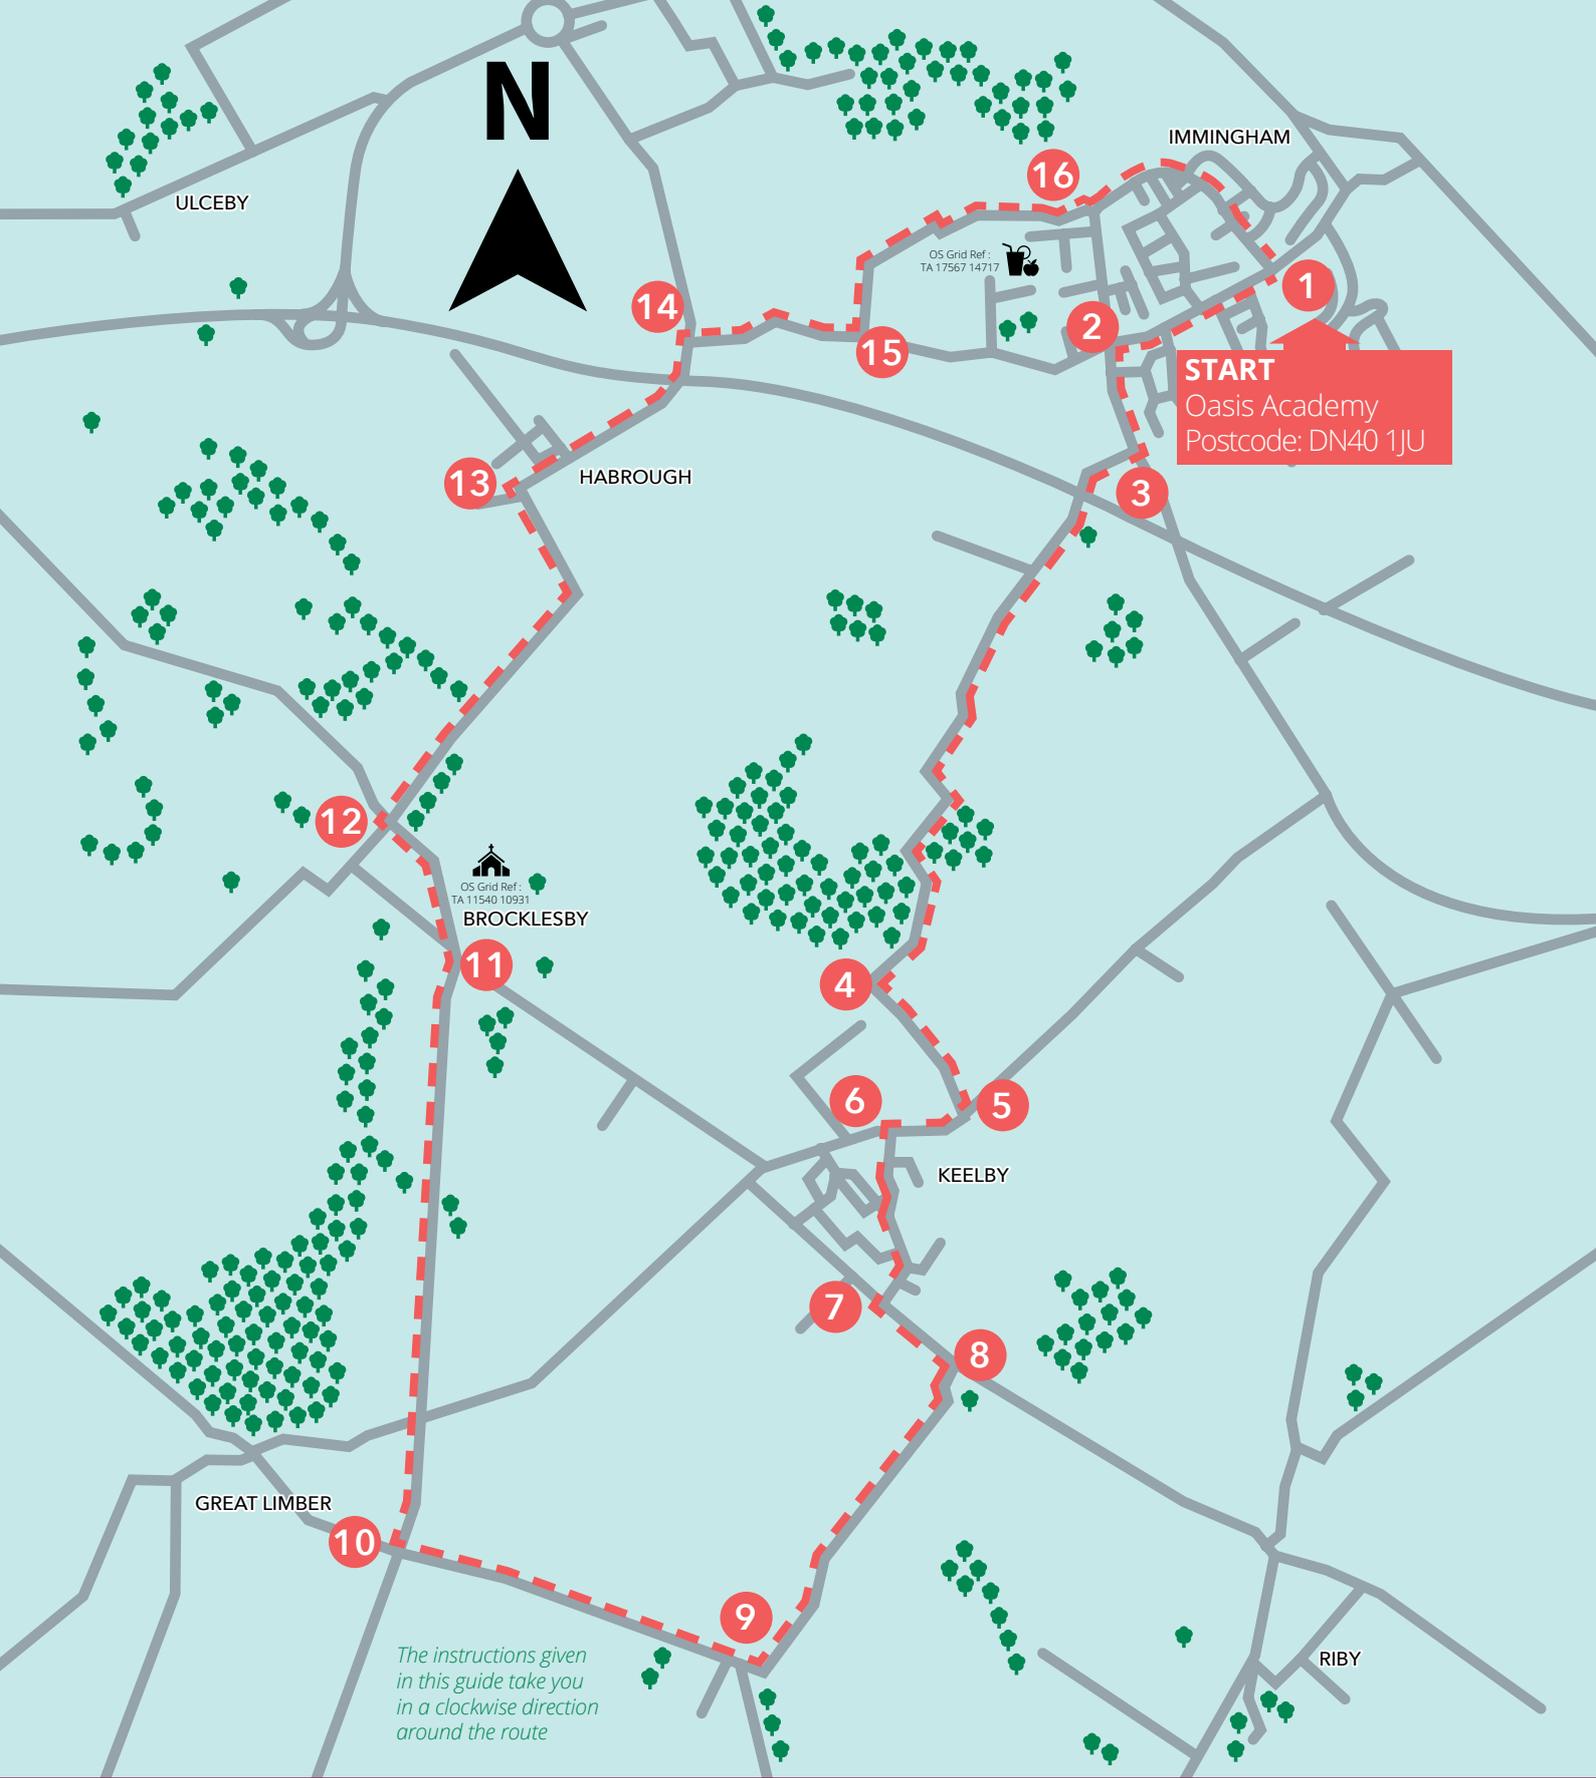

Immingham as we see it today came about thanks to the railways and the deep-water port companies in the 19th and early 20th centuries. The port is now the largest port by tonnage in the UK.

The historic village grew up around St Andrew's parish church which you'll pass on your way back into the town after your ride.

Heading out from Immingham you'll soon discover the countryside right on your doorstep. Much of this ride is on quiet countryside roads but please note that you will have to cross the A18 which can be busy with lorries and other vehicles. Please take extra care and look out for any members of your group who may be less confident.

On your way to Keelby, you'll pass through Roxton Woods. Keep an eye out for the host of wildlife that makes its home amongst the trees. Keelby is a great place to pause for a drink and a bite to eat. The village is about a third of the way around the route so make sure you stock up on drinks, especially if it's a hot sunny day.

Further around the route, you'll travel through the Brocklesby estate and the villages of Brocklesby and Habrough before heading back into Immingham.

The instructions given in this guide take you in a clockwise direction around the route
